

*The mighty Bay of Fundy, enemy and friend
Awesome, fearsome - rolling tides that never end.
We who live by it, love it, but know too in our mind
Tragedy stalks the fishermen down through endless time.*

*This twentieth day of January, a day that never ends
For those who loved those brothers who left to tend their pens
We'll never know what happened when they set off through the snow
But mothers, children, wives and fathers grief is greater than we know.*

*Their larger family Parrsboro: tries to understand the cost,
The reason for this tragedy and why good lives were lost.
We hang our heads in sorrow but let us do our part
To help those families bear such grief and keep them in our heart.*

Poem Reading [Bruce Graham]

Hymn: Here I am, Lord

Reading – Ecclesiastes 3: 9-15

Psalm 23 KJV: (Printed to be read alternating verses with congregation)

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;

he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake

Yea, though I walk through the valleys of the shadow of death,

I will fear no evil; for thou art with me,

thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies;
thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Reading – John 15: 5, 9-12
